To the church,

Thank you for your thoughts and prayers during this difficult time.

Sincerely, The Russell Headley family

Church Family,

I would like to thank everyone that prayed, called, or sent a card to me after my shoulder surgery. I greatly appreciate it. I am doing physical therapy and hoping that we will still be able make it to Florida this winter.

Receiving the Gift

Every now and then, I get invitations to give to causes or groups. Some of these I have given to in the past, and some are new. Many times, included in these letters is a promise of a thank you gift for giving. It might be a shirt or bag, or it might be a bumper sticker, a picture or something decorative. You've probably gotten those letters too...they seem to be a daily occurrence during the holidays.

I have always thought God's gift of his Son Jesus to be incredibly special and unique. It is a no strings attached, no donation necessary, undeserved response to a problem we created! Seriously, when was the last time you messed something up and someone offered not only to fix it, but to do so at their expense! (i.e., Adam and Eve) The gift of Jesus is totally unique, which is why we'll be talking about it for the next few weeks: why He came, what it means for us, and how to accept this most precious gift of all gifts.

This week, and the weeks following, invite a friend. Chances are good that your friends are more receptive about coming to church this time of year more than any other. They need to hear about the Most Important Gift! What better time than now, when we are thinking about giving and all that Christmas means?

The Bettinger Family

Thank you for hosting the GriefShare program at the church. I have previously completed all 13 weeks sessions. I was vital in getting me thru the first two years. I have decided I can now put that grief in the background and focus on my future. I enjoyed meeting you and the other participants.

Sincerely,
Kathy D. Climer
